

Ashley Greeley
NCAE-C K12 Mission Lead
National Centers of Academic Excellence in Cybersecurity
(NCAE-C)
National Cryptologic University
National Security Agency (NSA)

Ms. Ashley Greeley is the K12 Mission Lead within the National Centers of Academic Excellence in Cybersecurity (NCAE-C) Program Office at the National Cryptologic University, housed at the National Security Agency (NSA). Prior to joining the NSA in 2018, Ms. Greeley spent 16 years teaching social studies and coaching basketball at the high school level. Her passion continues to be creating, exposing, and communicating cybersecurity opportunities to teachers, students, and other professionals so that they can achieve their goals. Her background teaching US history, sociology, and US government aligns with her interest in the humanistic and policy aspects of cybersecurity. Her previous and current roles at the NSA include serving as a cybersecurity instructor, leading the GenCyber program, and working with the NCAE-C program.

Ms. Greeley was born and raised in West Lafayette, IN and is a proud graduate of Purdue University (bachelor's/master's). Her hobbies include traveling with her husband, spending time with family, being outside, attending Purdue sporting events, and reading books.