Sidney D'Mello (PhD in Computer Science) is an Associate Professor in the Institute of Cognitive Science and Department of Computer Science at the University of Colorado Boulder. He is interested in the dynamic interplay between cognition and emotion while individuals and groups engage in complex real-world tasks. He applies insights gleaned from this basic research program to develop intelligent technologies that help people achieve to their fullest potential by coordinating what they think and feel with what they know and do. D'Mello has co-edited seven books and published almost 300 journal papers, book chapters, and conference proceedings. His work has been funded by numerous grants and he currently serves(d) as associate editor for Discourse Processes and PloS ONE. D'Mello is the Principal Investigator for the NSF National Institute for Student-Agent Teaming.
